

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW
ATLANTA • PHILADELPHIA • SEATTLE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 10, 2011

CONTACT

Matthew Ritter
mritter@woodcock.com
215-564-5127

Woodcock Washburn Attorney and Co-Inventors Win 2011 Thomas Alva Edison Patent Award

Philadelphia – Dr. Stephanie Barbosa, attorney at Woodcock Washburn, is a co-inventor of U.S. 6,869,952, entitled Pyrrolo[2,1-f][1,2,4]Triazine Inhibitors of Kinases, which was awarded the 2011 Thomas Alva Edison Patent Award in the pharmaceuticals category. The patent, assigned to Bristol-Myers Squibb, encompasses a compound in Phase III development for the treatment of cancer. The Thomas Alva Edison Patent Award program, sponsored by The Research & Development Council of New Jersey, annually recognizes the outstanding work done by New Jersey scientists and inventors. Awards are given to the top patents in a variety of technical categories, including consumer technology, emerging technology/small company, homeland security, industrial process, medical/technology transfer, nutraceuticals, pharmaceuticals, and telecommunications.

James N. Lum. All rights reserved.

James N. Lum. All rights reserved.

About Woodcock Washburn LLP

Woodcock Washburn LLP, with offices in Atlanta, Philadelphia, and Seattle, has specialized in intellectual property law since 1946. Rated as one of the top IP law firms in the United States by IP Law & Business, the firm has also been named the top intellectual property firm in Pennsylvania by Chambers USA for nine consecutive years. The firm's lawyers and scientific advisors provide national and international clients a full range of services that includes litigation, patent procurement, IP strategies, trademark and copyright prosecution, licensing advice, and standards and open source software counseling across a wide range of industries and technologies. For more information, go to www.woodcock.com.